Fionnuala Kirby Celtic Harpist

I am a Celtic Harpist and play regularly for weddings and other occasions. I play an Ossian-style Clarsach, made by Tim Hampson of Bere Ferrers. I have travelled extensively in Europe playing music over the last five years. My repertoire consists of a wide range of traditional Irish, English, Scottish, Welsh and Cornish tunes, some Paraguayan tunes, some religious and classical pieces and many popular tunes. I am open to requests, and can tailor my playing to suit the requirements of your big day, whether playing before, during or after the ceremony, or any combination of these.

THE TERRACE

The Terrace is a new venue in Tavistock to consider when making your wedding plans. A very short walk from the Church and the Registry Office, you will find chic stylish surroundings housing a lounge bar and a restaurant that will comfortably sit over 80 covers in the main dining area. Many more can be catered for if a buffet is chosen. A dance floor for the evening entertainment? Many things are both possible and available. Most importantly the lift provides completely level access. There is even a range of bridal jewellery in the Gallery. The Terrace is well worth a visit where you can sit & talk in comfort about your special day.
